Subject: Rethinking Transport - Input from Local Councils

Dear Local Councils

We know that transport impacts everybody’s lives and the ability to connect with services, friends and family and we recognise that there are some considerable challenges with Surrey’s existing transport network.

We want everybody in Surrey to be able to contribute to what the future Surrey transport system looks like. In the Community vision for Surrey in 2030 we promised to make journeys across the county easier, more predictable and safer and make sure Surrey has well connected communities.

This is a unique opportunity to think differently about future transport in Surrey and learn from your experiences and include your ideas in the design. We want transport in Surrey to be environmentally sustainable and make use of new technologies and digital innovation.

We are using the attached short questionnaire as part of an exploratory exercise to capture the views across a wide range of stakeholders including the NHS Trusts, CCGs, the business community, as well as local councils. Your views will be fed into the Rethinking Transport Report that will look to highlight a “inclusive ambition” of what transport should look like in future.

Unfortunately, as a project team, we are not in a position to come and see you all, but hope you will welcome taking a different approach to how we talk and think about transport and I look forward to reading your responses and engaging further in future.

With best regards
